Description

A fine example of an 18th Century solid Silver tankard of plain form on a round foot with scrolling handle. It has engraved initial on one side which looks like a H. The tankard is good quality, weighing approximately 288g. It is clearly hallmarked for London, 1770. It has a maker's mark for J.S. which is Listed by Grimwade under Unregistered Marks [mark no.3685]. It may have been recorded in the lost 1758-1773 Largeworkers' Register. It is in good condition for its age. There are no major damages and it displays beautifully. There are some faint internal marks and a few light surface marks and a small dent near the base (see photo) but nothing detrimental. It has been gently cleaned and polished is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions please ask. Tracked UK delivery £10, rest of the world £25.
