Description

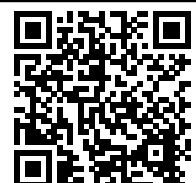

An excellent antique burr walnut desk with a leather writing surface & dating from around the 1930's period. It has a serpentine shaped front & the drawers are graduated in depth with original brass handles. The burr walnut side panels are amazing & there are shell carvings on the legs. This desk is of extremely fine quality and has lovely proportions with a generous knee hole space. The burr walnut veneers are stunning throughout, even on the back. The inset green leather top is gold tooled and is also of excellent quality. We have recently had this re-polished, it is in fantastic condition throughout for its age.
