Description

In classic form this is a good example of a Georgian tilt top tripod table. A circular raised rim dish top of excellent colour and grain. Slim elegant turned stem on a tripod base with no damage or old breaks. The rim to the top has some small historic repairs and the flat surface has a very small blemish (see photos) but generally it is in excellent condition as is the brass catch to the tilt top action. This table stands well either with the top raised or horizontal 45 cm in diameter and 73 cm high with the top down. OVERSEAS buyers please ask for shipping costs before purchasing.
