Description

Antique Victorian Children's School Slider Desk & Chair. Please note; Items placed on or around the desk are not included in the sale. A Lovely 19th Century Childs desk. We are delighted to offer for sale this excellent condition rare late Victorian (circa 1880) pitch Pine & Elm seated school desk. We believe from our research that this desk was made by the maker George M Hammer & Co Strand London who were English furniture makers in the 19th-20th century, most known for making school furniture. This desk and chair combination has a lift up davenport style lid with storage ideal for keeping paperwork, stationary or even in todays world laptops. The desk features the ability to move the desktop backwards and forwards for comfort adjustment and ease of access and has a book stand to the rear. This desk is perfect for a child's bedroom for school work or could even be used as a small desk for an adult with a sloped top making it good for working on a laptop. As this desks previous life was in a school, it does have markings and names on the top surface as shown in the pictures. We feel that this gives great character and charm. We have sympathetically restored ...
