Description

A stunning Victorian library table crafted from exquisite burr walnut stands out with its bow-ended rectangular top, adorned with a fine gilded edge. It rests on a frieze that conceals two mahogany-lined drawers with gilt trim. The table is supported by four reeded columns that terminate in splay feet, equipped with the original castors. A stretcher with intricately carved tulip decoration connects these columns. The table's superb design, rich colour, and patina allow it to be showcased in the centre of any room.
