This really is the most charming work by this British artist that is for sale on the market today. This is one of a group of superb paintings that are highly sought after, that was executed by Fildes of beautiful young ladies. Fildes painted many of these images of beautiful young women but this one is one of the finest that you will ever see This is the standout painting that this artist did. He did another one that is virtually identical that is now on show in the Royal Academy I've put a link below so you can see the one in The Royal Academy. The colours on the hat and one or two other minor details differ but it's virtually identical and is the same lady wearing the same clothing Look here below at this web page:
