Description

An elegant rosewood table dating from the late 19th / early 20th century. It has a beautifully shaped top with a matching shelf below and stands on four legs terminating in small ceramic castors. There is inlaid boxwood stringing around the top, the shelf and on the legs. The rosewood has a central inlaid panel and this is mirrored on the shelf as well. It is a beautiful rich colour with a bold grain and the whole piece is in very good condition. It is strong and sturdy with no major damages. There are some minor signs of age and use, small marks and minor knocks but nothing detrimental. It has been gently polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Nationwide delivery available through our network of reliable couriers.
