Description

A substantial brass monocular microscope, model no. 30671, by F. Koristka Milano. The microscope is housed in a fitted mahogany case typically made by Zeiss. Zeiss supplied Koristka so it is possible that the case may be original to the scope. The box has a working lock and key. The microscope has two objectives. All lenses are intact and the microscope is in good working order. The microscope comes with several early 20th century slides, namely: Wing of Dragonfly Desmids, Closterium Wool Loutus, Starch Grains Cotton Black Wheat, Starch Grains From Seed Pine Pollens Japanese Cedar Tracheid Menber Green Alga, Cladophora Sauter An attractive set for functional use or display.
