Description

Richard Buckner, 1812 -1883 Portrait of an Elegant Lady with her Child attended by Her Dog oil on canvas 36 x 28 in. (92 x 72 cm.) Richard Buckner (born Woolwich, London, 25 October 1812; died 12 August 1883), was an English portrait painter. He did not marry. Hon. Margaret Warren (1847–1921). Daughter of George Warren, 2nd Baron de Tabley. Wife to Sir Arthur Cowell-Stepney, 2nd Baronet. Buckner was the son of an army officer and grandson of Admiral Charles Buckner. Buckner first worked in a studio in his family home, Whyke House, Rumboldswyke, Chichester. After serving in the army in 1832 and 1833 as a Second Lieutenant in The King's Royal Rifle Corps he studied painting under Giovanni Battista Cassevari in Rome. While in Rome Buckner gave advice to Frederick (Lord) Leighton, later PRA, when he was starting his career. Buckner lived in and had his studio in Cleveland Row, opposite St James's Palace, in London. He first painted miniatures but then changed to painting larger portraits. He painted Italian genre subjects and later elegant and fashionable Victorian ladies. He first sent work to galleries for sale in 1840. He exhibited at the Royal Academy of Arts in 184...
