Description

A stunning early 19th Century painted pine wardrobe originating from West Germany, with its original paint in very good condition for its age. It is dated 1829 suggesting that this was the date it was painted, and given as a wedding gift. Dismantles in that the top and bottom can be removed and the main body splits in two down the middle for delivery. The panelled are painted with very pretty floral images and have the original lock and key which is fully working. This particular armoire has a very attractive large cornice top. Inside at the bottom is a shelf above a single drawer which has the original ring pull handle, all sitting on bun feet to the front and rear. We will fit a new brass hanging rail or alternatively we could fit some shelves inside if you wanted to use it as a cupboard. The price is £1,750. Height 79", Width 68.5", Depth 23.5", Internal Depth 18.5"
