Description

This is a beautifully made 19th century Anglo-Indian campaign chest. Great patina from years of use with attractive recessed brass handles. The overall piece is an unusual smaller than average size which I rather like. It has a great design that will work well in a number of interiors. Great quality and there is an old transport label on the lower section. The split is the top two levels come away from the lower set. Both parts are reassuringly heavy and sit together flush.
