Description

An attractive and well-proportioned antique carved oak bureau bookcase from the Victorian period. The carved oak bureau bookcase has a decorative shaped and carved cornice above the two glazed bookcase doors. The doors open by key to reveal a single loose fitted shelf. The top section also has two small drawers above three open compartments. The base of the carved oak bureau bookcase has a fall front (complete with working lock and key) that opens to reveal a fitted interior to include pigeonholes, two small drawers, stationery and ink trays, and an inset leather writing surface (losses). The fall front is supported by the two small drawers below. The bureau has an arrangement of five fitted drawers around a central arched compartment. Raised on four square legs. This wonderful antique carved oak bureau bookcase has decorative carved details throughout. A rather pleasing example. Separates into two parts for ease of transport and movement. Item Ref; M-3064 . DIMENSIONS: Height - 198cm / Width - 80.5cm / Depth - 43cm / Surface Height - 70.5cm . CONDITION REPORT: In good antique condition throughout with some signs of age.
