Description

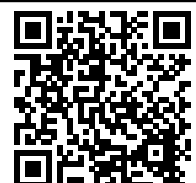

A gorgeous silver mounted cologne bottle from the elegant Edwardian era. This extra large and imposing example has a glass body that is extensively cut with hobnails and strawberry diamonds. To the base is a multi-point star and unusually, a silver collar with a matching hallmark to the lid. The domed and repousse lid is hinged and is decorated with foliar motifs and features a central cartouche with no monogram. It opens to reveal the original peg stopper. A gorgeous piece, both usable and decorative. Dimensions below.
