Description

A stunning original Art Deco period occasional table, beautifully made from walnut and macassar wood. This was made in England, it dates from the 1930's. The images don't quite do this justice, you have to see it in real life to fully appreciate the beauty and exceptional quality! This is extremely well built and is a great size. It is perfect for use as an occasional side table or as a coffee table. This is built from solid wood, with amazing figured walnut veneers on the lower sections, burr walnut veneer on the top and macassar cross banded edges on the top. The whole interior of the lower section is beautifully finished in walnut. We have had this stripped and re-polished to a very high standard, the condition is superb throughout.
