Description

A rare circular oak and silver plated tray, unusual, you just don't come across circular examples and early examples like this. The underside is lucky enough to have an English design registration lozenge which we can date to 17th October 1871. The tray stands on three cast bracket feet and the the centre of the tray has a large circular vacant cartouche. We have been lucky enough to find a matching smaller tray, perfect for a decanter coaster - See Item: 41114 subject to availability. Excellent condition measuring 14" in diameter x 1 1/2" tall.
