Description

Antique Edwardian American Upholstered Rocking chair. A comfortable but decorative rocking chair. We bring to you this lovely example of an original American Edwardian (circa 1900) solid Beech rocking chair featuring fantastic finely turned construction in a walnut colour. The chair descends to a typical Edwardian dual coil-sprung rocking base incorporating finely turned stretcher rails. This lovely chair features its original well maintained french polished finish with lots of patina which we have just cleaned to preserve and protect the finish and give a natural sheen. This item is structurally solid with a perfectly working rocking mechanism, in good order with no loose joints. The material and inner padding seems to be in good condition and the chair has come from a smoke-free environment and is comfortable. The chair has been traditionally re-upholstered (approximately within the last 8 years) in a fine quality floral beige Damask material which we have cleaned. The material is used so is not absolutely perfect, however, can be left as it is in fantastic clean condition or it could be fully upholstered to your taste. We would be able to quote for reupholstering th...
