Description

We are delighted to offer this magnificent solid silver table snuff box made by silversmith Edward Edwards of London in 1833. The box being made during the Georgian era features a classic and timeless engine-turned design displayed over the substantially wide four sides and the base. Unlike counterpart boxes, this box most certainly is in a class of its own with a luxurious and large/thick size which allows for such motifs to be displayed magnificently, further highlighting the precision, craftsmanship and care that has gone into the making of this snuff box. Further desirable features can be found on the top lid of this snuff box which presents at first glance, a "simple" design. Yet upon closer inspection, one can appreciate its unique large cartouche and its contrasting fine chased border that encompasses the whole lid. Whilst most pieces would compete with the most ornate designs and decorations, this box takes the opposite approach of displaying its core magnificence: The minimalist design contrasted even greater by its impactful size further draws out its presence and most certainly stands out from the crowd, leaving a lasting impression on those who ...
