Description

WW2 Uritas military pocket watch, chain and compass. The watch has a good quality 15-jewel stem-winding movement (with optional Breguet hairspring for enhanced precision), which is working nicely. The watch measures 50mm diameter excluding the winding stem and the loop. The case is plated and it has some rubbing and marking, as you would hope to see in a WW2 piece. The back of the watch has the military arrow, or pheon, and the GSTP mark, General Service Time Piece or Trade Pattern. The acrylic lens is in good condition. It would originally have had an acrylic lens so this is in keeping with the watch. The dial is in its original finish although it appears to have been restored at some stage as the hairline cracks have been painted over. The watch comes with a single chain 24cm long including the T-bar and the clasp. Also included is a full hunter compass which we believe to be original to the watch, certainly of the correct period. The watch, chain and compass will come in a new presentation box.
