Description

Restored and recovered in a fine and complimentary old gold cloth, this stylish and skilfully decorated Art Nouveau two-seater settee (English - Circa 1910) is now ready to be used and enjoyed. Whilst being photographed in our Dorking showroom, It's curvaceous frame and inlaid decoration (mother of pearl and boxwood) drew much admiration from customers. It's fine construction is visually appealing, and at the same time deceiving, as its robust mahogany frame has endured a hundred years of use without damage - a testament to Edwardian craftsmanship.
