Description

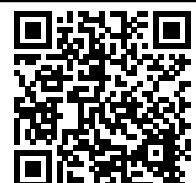

A superb original antique Victorian military campaign desk in mahogany. This was made in England & dates from around 1860-1880's period. The quality is excellent, this is very well built and has a gorgeous inset tooled leather writing surface. The top also has a removable gallery, the drawers fronts have lovely inset brass military handles and this desk sits on turned bun feet. The drawers are solid oak lined, and have fine quality hand cut dovetailed joints. This is beautifully finished on the back too, so can be used as a free standing item. The top comes off and this breaks down into three main pieces for ease of transport. We have recently had this re-polished, the condition is excellent for its age.
