Description

An impressive piece of early 19th Century tea-table ware. This is a fine and imposing celery vase, with a flared rim and a deep ribbed wrythen body. There is a large ball knob supporting the body and a plain base with polished pontil mark. Celery vases are making quite a comeback as vintage tableware continues in it's popularity. These particular items lend themselves to the modern table for alternative uses, such as flowers etc. and are attractive and practical items. Dimensions below.
