Description

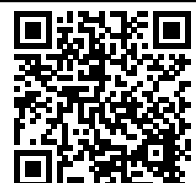

A stunning Georgian bow back yew and elm Windsor chair, c.1800. The chair has bentwood arm rests, saddle seat and a crinoline stretcher. The two front legs have lower egg and reel turnings. The chair has some small historic repairs as is expected and there is a small split to the crinoline stretcher (please see photographs). Overall the chair remains in a very good condition, strong and structurally sound. The yew and elm has a wonderful patination throughout and is of a desirable warm glowing honey colour.
