Description

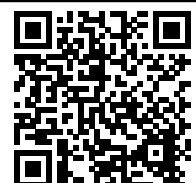

This 19th century decoy is utterly charming, he is well carved and retains his bright original paint. As can be seen in the photographs, there has been woodworm to the underside, this is long dead but has been treated by us for peace of mind. This does not affect his stability or decorative appeal. A great piece to display or add to a collection. c. 1900 Length: 11" 28 cm Depth: 5" 13 cm Height: 5.5" 14 cm
