Description

This is a very attractive fully restored wall clock in the more popular 8inch (dial) size. The Rosewood veneered case has the usual convex lower door and hinged side door, a flat profile to the wooden surround and a cast brass bezel. The restored dial is signed Smith of London. The rear of the dial is also signed Smith and has a repair written. The small fusee movement has a gut line from the barrel, the pendulum is substantial with a lead filled brass faced 'bob'. Samuel Smith of Newington Causeway opened his first shop in 1851 and then his second in 1871. There is also an attractive repair label inside the hinged side door. This clock has just been finished and will be ready for sale this weekend. Reserve now !!
