Description

This is an antique conductor's stand. An English, mahogany adjustable music rest or lectern, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910. Elegantly presented stand, ideal for public recitals or speeches. Displays a desirable aged patina and in good order. Select stocks show fine grain interest and warm russet hues. Slender proportion aids discretion and ease of moving. Wide, low profile top with music rest to centre. Folding upon two axis, with adjustable stepped rests to rear. Inset book rest folds outwards from the lectern platform - ideal for holding sheet music. Boxwood stringing to each surface adds a contrasting touch. Square front apron with triangular brackets meet shaped shoulders. Standing upon slender turned legs with long trestle feet to either side. This is a delightful antique conductor's stand, with a slender, delicate profile. Fine colour and finish, with wonderful functionality for music recitals, speeches or even resting a tablet. Solid joints and construction, delivered waxed, polished and ready for the home.
