Description

This pretty ring is so sparkly it's almost impossible to photograph under artificial light! The central paste diamond is bright white and foil-backed for additional fire. Dating from the late Edwardian to Art Deco period. The ring is in very good antique condition, though the four tiny side stones are a little green. Size M (UK), approximately 6 and a quarter (US). The large stone measures approx 6mm across - if it were a diamond it would be almost a carat. It sits around 8mm above the finger. Marked "9CT & SIL" inside the shank. The back of the ring band is nine-carat gold, while the front is silver, showing off the sparkling white stones to their best advantage. Weight: 1.7g.
