Description

A Fine Victorian Striking Repeater Carriage Clock c1890 BY RICHARD AND CO ~~~ Excellent original condition throughout ~~~ This is an original Victorian striking repeater carriage clock dated to around 1890. It has a traditional polished case with a shaped fold down handle and gong striking on the hours and half hours. It is in excellent condition, bright and clean yet showing the patina which you would expect from a clock of this age. The movement made by Richard and Cie is of very high quality and is fully marked, it runs for a full 8 days and keeps good time. All of the glass panels are perfect with no cracks or chips. The movement is in excellent clean and running condition having just undergone a complete and comprehensive overhaul by Alan Williams of Plymouth Clocks who is a fellow of the British Horological Institute so you can be assured that this clock will give trouble free service for many many years before requiring any further attention. The platform escapement is original and the repeat functions correctly striking the previous hour when the button is pressed. A beautiful high quality victorian carriage clock in wonderful condition which will give gr...
