Description

Charming well-proportioned mahogany knee hole desk having an arrangement of one long drawer over 6 smaller drawers. At the centre, a small cupboard within the kneehole includes a working lock and key for added functionality. The kneehole measures 58cm high by 34cm wide, ensuring comfortable use. Each drawer is expertly crafted with dovetail joints and retains its original brass swan-neck handles. While there are some minor imperfections typical of antique furniture, this desk remains solid and durable. The striking mahogany showcases incredible graining and a rich patina, adding to its period charm. A perfect example of functional antique furniture, this desk offers both storage and workspace, making it an ideal piece for a home office. It is in excellent condition and would bring history and character to any setting. Internal Reference: SAI2532
