Description

This Edwardian Brass and Iron bed dates from the early 1900s. It is all there including the finials and the little brass motifs. There are side rails as can be seen in the picture, not the best fit in the world but fully working as can be seen. This bed is in really need of a little tidying hence the give away price but could be used as it is of course. It is a standard 6.3ins by 3ft wide. The brass could do with a clean and the ironwork a rub down and respray, however it appears to be in the original paint so unlike most has not got layers of later paint to remove. That can be a pain so this has a great benefit there. The cheapest by far that I can see at only £125.00. give us a call to reserve.
