Description

A very useful oak cabinet dating from the late 19th Century. It has a single door which opens to a shelved interior and it stands on four small turned legs. It is solidly built with an attractive panelled front and sides. It is in very good condition and comes with a working key. The shelves are clean and tidy and the oak has a wonderful rich patina and colour. It is not without some small marks and knocks, some old stains on the top surface and signs of use but nothing detrimental and it displays beautifully. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Nationwide delivery available through our network of reliable couriers.
