Description

A very rare and unusual Old Sheffield Plated dish with cover and Bristol Blue liner. This item dates from circa 1780-1820 but bears no makers marks. It is possibly a very large butter dish but could easily be used for general service. Fantastic arched design and standing on four stylised lion paw feet. The condition is very good with no splits or breaks. Very slight copper bleed to some raised edges. The blue liner is intact apart from a single drilled hole (possibly for drainage) near the base. A few faint black marks to the 'hard to polish' areas. Weight approx 816g. Total Span approx 24cm. Total Height approx 17cm. Total width approx 12cm. Blue Liner measures approx 16cm x 10.5cm
