Description

A Charming Victorian Mahogany Drop Leaf Table. An ideal antique drop leaf dining table for space saving. This is a marvellous example of a Victorian drop leaf Mahogany dining table believed to be made around C1880, featuring a lovely lightly faded rich Mahogany colour with original patina. The table has solid Mahogany construction throughout with a simple moulded edge, frieze either side which goes to 4 typical late victorian turned legs. We have just cleaned and polished this lovely table to give a natural shine and enhance the french polished finish. This table has a very small form yet is versatile from having 2 large drop-down leaves managing to comfortably seat 4 people and be used as a dining room, breakfast table or occasional/hall table. This table features 4 finely turned legs 2 of which are hinged on finger joints to support the leaves when opened. The table is constructed in a solid way with tight Mortise & Tenon/Dovetailed joints and the tops are mostly flat and not twisted. The centre leaf has a historic joint which has been repaired at some point but is still strong. Please note; Being an antique item of this age there are obvious...
