Description

Pair of Original Antique Regency Carver Chairs. A lovely addition to any period property. We bring to you this excellent condition pair of fantastic quality Regency solid Mahogany scroll arm carver chairs made around C1820. These very rare pair of chairs feature a moulded, shaped and curved head rail over a curved and shaped splat. The chair has shepherds crock scrolled arm supports on shaped side rails which finishes to finely turned front legs. The chairs original drop in seat pads have been fully rebuilt and reupholstered in a lovely fine red velvet material. The inner padding is horse hair and webbing (which has been replaced), the chairs are very comfortable to sit on. The chairs are solid with no loose joints or wobbles. There are less than a hand-full of historic woodworm holes on the underside rails of each chair which is not active and do not compromise the chairs in any way (which is excellent with the age of these chairs). These charming chairs are in lovely original condition with their original rich mahogany colour and polished finish with patina, they have never been re-polished. We have sympathetically restored these chairs by carefully cleaning and ...
