Description

A lovely mahogany table dating from the late 19th century. It has a round top on a delicate turned column with a round base and it stands on three scrolling feet. In the centre of the column is a further round shelf which would have likely had a gallery around at some point. It is in good condition for its age with a lovely rich patina. It is strong and sturdy with no major damages. There are some signs of age and use, small knocks and marks and some fading on the top but nothing detrimental. It has been gently cleaned and polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
