Description

Antique silver goliath Stauffer pocket watch and chain. This is a super example of a goliath watch which, unusually, has a silver case and a heavy chain that is perfectly proportioned and sits beautifully with the watch. The watch has a Swiss stem-winding movement which is working nicely. The movement is signed 'The Atlas Watch'. Stauffer's factory in La Chaux-de-Fonds was called Atlas and in the 19th Century they produced a range of lever watches called "The Atlas Watch", the brand name was registered by Stauffer in 1885. The movement is protected by an inner hinged cover. The watch measures 69mm diameter excluding the winding stem and the loop. Unusually for a goliath pocket watch, the case is made of silver. The two back covers have Continental hallmarks for .935 silver, so slightly purer than .925 sterling silver. The case is in lovely condition with just light surface marks, nothing serious at all. The glass lens is in lovely condition. The dial is in very nice condition too with original pin-set hands, a large subsidiary seconds dial and an outer minute track. The watch comes with a large heavy silver single chain, 32cm long including the T-bar and the c...
