Description

Royal House Antiques is delighted to offer for sale this very rare, large for its type, Royal coat of arms / Armorial Crest circa 1707-1714 with original Polychrome paint. Please note the delivery fee listed is just a guide, it covers within the M25 only for the UK and local Europe only for international, if you would like an accurate quote please send me your postcode and I'll provide you with the exact price. This is an exceptionally well made and decorative piece, it is large as mentioned, the full specifications are below but this is over three times the size of the last one I had in stock. It is a carved and polychrome painted Royal Coat of Arms of the United Kingdom, 18th century, with supporting lion and unicorn among scrolling foliage, inscribed 'HONI SOIT QUI MAL Y PENSE' and 'DIEU ET MON DROIT'. Provenance: Purportedly from an administrative building in the Caribbean. It has been suggested that the painted coat of arms dates to between 1707 and 1714. The first and fourth quarters bear the three lions of England impaled with the lion of Scotland within a bordure, representing the 1707 Union with Scotland. The second and third quarters show the arms of France and...
