Description

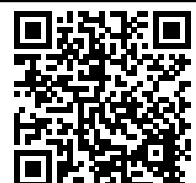

Good 19th century gilt bronze mantle clock circa 1875 A unique opportunity to acquire a good French Mantel clock which needs a good clean. The movement is by the renowned maker Vincente and strikes the hour and half hour on a cast bell, giving a beautiful mellow chime. This clock comes straight from a private collection and simply needs a good cleaning and dusting down to bring it back to its original condition and restore it to its former glory. The case is absolutely sound with no additions or losses and would be suitable to go back into a collection or simply to add interest to, and go to a fine home.
