Description

George II period, mahogany pad foot drop leaf dining table, Circa 1750. A square well figured mahogany top with drop leaves which are supported by gatelegs from either side. Each leaf a single piece of mahogany. All raised on turned legs with pad feet. An attractive period table, in a good condition, with good polish and patina, and very much ready for use. Dimensions: This table measures approximately 70 cm (27.5") tall, 121 cm (47.5") wide leaves up, 44 cm (17.5") leaves down, and 122 cm (48") deep. Condition: Please see the pictures for details of the items condition. - This table is in good condition, commensurate with its age, and is structurally sound and sturdy. Some marks and blemishes. One small, old and good repair to the tip of one foot, other no obvious signs of repair. Generally good colour, though there is a little fading to the centre of the top, though it is in keeping and not unpleasant, good polish and patina. Ready for use. Formerly the centre table of a much large dining table, but works very well as it is. - As with all vintage & antique furniture there will be signs of use, marks, wear & tear, etc.
