Description

George III period, astragal glazed wall hanging corner cabinet, Circa 1775. This quality solid oak period corner cabinet features an astra-glazed door with original and undamaged glass, lock and key, moulded cornice top with matching plinth base. There is a solid period piece of polished oak top, which has likely been added later but is in keeping with the rest of piece, could be removed, but provides an additional surface or shelf, and therefore has been left. The interior has been painted burgundy red, and has two shelves. A charming and quality cabinet in a good condition, with original glass. Very serviceable and ready to use. Dimensions: This cabinet measures approximately 107 cm (42") tall, 84 cm (33") wide, and 45 cm (18") deep. The back corner to either side corner measures 64 cm (25"). Condition: Please see the pictures for details of the items condition. - This cabinet is in a good condition, commensurate with its age, and is structurally very sound and sturdy. Some odd marks and blemishes, in keeping with a piece of this age. The lock is a replacement but is period and has a working key, though is a little temperamental. Replacement hinges. Top is likely...
