Description

This superb small coin collector's cabinet is made from solid polished mahogany. To the front, there is a pair of locking doors with the original key which hinge open to reveal a wonderful array of 32 thin drawers which are each divided into various sized square compartments for storing and displaying a variety of different sized coins. This small cabinet would accommodate quite a large collection. Each drawer is finished with an original gilt brass knob for gaining access. English circa 1880
