Description

This miniature candlestick stands only 11cm tall and depicts a reveller holding a goblet in one hand and the candles capital in the other. The candlestick bears the hallmark of Birmingham 1902, and the mark W.A for William Aitken of Vyse Street in Birmingham. The top has a separate little cup that slots in (also hallmarked), and the base has been weighted at the bottom to add its stability. The condition is good, with one slight ding to the top of the capital. Please don't hesitate to get in touch if you'd like any further information.
