Description

A very rare Copeland and Garrett porcelain vinaigrette, c. 1835. The body, finely painted to one side with a gilt scroll panel, containing a girl in flowing robes, reclining against amongst Classical sculpture, with a mandolin at her side. The reverse with a similar shaped panel, painted with a seascape, of figures being rescued from a shipwreck. All upon a turquoise ground, beneath a gilt net motif. The bottle mounted with a hinged silver gilt cover, chased with a continuous band of acanthus leaf decoration, beneath a wreath of Patriotic flowers – roses, shamrocks, and thistle. Impressed 'Copeland Garrett' mark, to the gilded base. Height: 7 cm, 2 3/4". Width: 5.8 cm, 2 1/4". Depth: 3 cm, 1 1/8". Condition: Some typical wear to the gilding, and enamels - please see images for detail. No restoration.
