Description

A rare, large Georgian, c1750, mahogany wing armchair with new upholstery. Wing armchairs dating from the 18th Century are becoming increasingly difficult to find. This chair has been re-upholstered in a fine quality damask material (upholstered 14th February this year), deep buttoned to the back, and has been through our workshop prior to re-upholstery where some minor restoration has been done which should give this chair another 250 years! A wonderful early Georgian example of an extremely stylish period wing armchair. One for the connoisseur.
