Description

A fabulous solid silver pendant by William Hair Haseler, a supplier to Liberty and Co which was particularly known for its high quality Art Nouveau and Arts and Crafts pieces. The pendant has typically elegant sinuous Art Nouveau lines (rather like a treble clef for the musicians out there!), adorned with enamel, two dark green pastes and a shining split pearl, with an additional pearl bead drop at the bottom. William Hair Haseler founded the Birmingham-based WH Haseler company in 1848/9 and went on to manufacture Liberty's Cymric range of jewellery and silver from 1899; a subsidiary company known as Liberty & Co (Cymric) Ltd was set up by Haseler in 1901 to make goods including the Tudric pewter range for Liberty's and many items by the leading Art Nouveau/Arts and Crafts designer Archibald Knox. The piece has lovely crisp clear hallmarks (Birmingham 1905) and the WHH sponsor's mark. The pendant is in very good condition with no chips or cracks in the enamel; one of the green pastes is chipped but unnoticeably so to the naked eye. The pearl bead drop is rustic, with nacre only on one side. Size: Total length including the bail is 5 x 1.4cm. Weight: 3.4g. FREE INTER...
