Description

Extremely rare is this Art Deco ceramic box, originally for sweets /biscuits but could also be part of the powder , half doll family given it's size. There is no makers name but we believe this piece is German in origin and has mold numbers to the back and base. Condition is very good, there is the faintest of hairlines which doesn't run through so could be just glaze but mentioned for accuracy. The colouring is as vibrant as when first made. Very are black memorabilia, rarely represented in any mainstream ceramics. This is the first we've ever seen of this style, so we defy you to find another! Offered with FREE UK mainland delivery.
