Description

Antique Four Glass Single Fusee Brass Library Clock John Massey 89 STRAND London. This lovely antique library clock has a brass case with a shaped top adorned with a round finial. The body of the case then has four brass columns to the edges as well as bevelled glass panels to the front, back, and sides. The base is then shaped like the top and is finished by four turned brass feet. The glass panels in the sides do seem to be ever so slightly short although this is hard to notice. The dial is then silvered and set out in black Roman numerals with a thin ring to the outside marking the minutes. The dial is then signed by the maker "John Massey 89 STRAND London". The dial is then finished by two shaped, blued steel hands. The movement is then a single fusee example of the upmost quality and is ticking away as it should. It comes complete with its regulating pendulum as well as its winding key. The movement simply looks wonderful in this clock being that it can be fully viewed. It is listed for collection in person due to its delicate nature although delivery can be arranged if needed! It measures approximately: - 13.5" / 34cm Tall. - 7.75" / 19.5cm Wide. - 6...
