Description

This is a very attractive and well made early 20th century mahogany writing desk. The design is simple but with enough detail to give it an attractive feel. With ball and claw feet and panelled sides. The top is what made me stop though as it is original black leather with gold embossed greek key pattern all the way around. The condition overall is very good as well. No key though I am afraid. The back is also nicely panelled which means it can stand centre of a room.
