Description

This is a very elegant and extremely well made early 20th century French sideboard. Made from a very attractive timber with a pale stone top which compliment each other perfectly. The inside of the cabinet is oak and shows clear signs of quality construction. The design for me will work well in a large number of interiors. It has the stylish legs capped in brass and panelled sides. The overall condition with very good with only minor faults. It comes with a key and fully working locks. The interior has three drawers to the centre and the sides have spaces for shelves which we haven't got but we could add some in for you should you wish.
