Description

In very nice tidy original condition other than rewaxing in our workshops, the timbers on this chair are clean and very presentable. The inlays are all in place and adorn the rear splat down the legs etc. There is even an inlay down the top of the arm and string inlays in the turning on the face of the arm. The seat has been reupholstered in the recent past and is good and clean. A very good example in nice condition from the very early 1900s that could fit into almost any room. Sensible price at only £225.00. Give us a call to discuss. size measurements are on the seat except for the height of course.
