Description

t's an enigmatic expression, his face in repose with eyes alive and focused. A bold outline describes a striking profile - a strong portrayal in red chalk. This skilful portrait study by Swedish artist, Roland Svenssen (1910-2003) was created in 1930. It's been suggested that it could be a self-portrait but we feel it's probably more likely to be his friend, Emil Norrström. Norrström owned the portrait previously and he's referred to in several letters. Housed within a good contemporary frame and signed/dated. Learn more about Roland Svenssen in our directory. Medium: Chalk on paper Overall size: 17" x 21" / 43cm x 53cm Year of creation: 1930 Condition: Overall very presentable. Artist's auction highlight: £193,578 achieved for an oil painting in 2009.
